LIONS CLUB MEETING

At the last meeting there were 20 members and 7 guests present. For the first time for weeks all the major officers were present, President, Secretary and Treasurer. We were glad too that our Caterers, Mr. and Mrs. Vermunt, were again on the job.

Under the guidance of our pianist, Lioness Hunt and our Tail Twister, Lion Bud Tench, the singing was positively good both in volume and quality.

The guest speaker of the evening was Miss Routledge, who spoke on the organization of the Provincial Department of Health. Incidental to her remarks, the speaker gave some facts regarding the requirements for the organization of a Municipal Hospital—

(1) There must be a population of at least 4,000 in the area.

(2) Twenty-five per cent of the ratepayers of this area must sign a petition for the formation of such a hospital area.

(3) The money by-law must carry at least a 65% vote in favor.

Miss Routledge's talk was received very enthusiastically.

The next meeting, a Ladies Night, will be November 23rd. This meeting will be the occasion of the visit of the District Governor, Mr. Phil Baker.

TOWN COUNCIL

SWIMMING POOL PROJECT MEETS APPROVAL OF COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

The Council were unanimously in favor of, November 11th, Remembrance Day, being observed as a holiday and the Secretary was instructed to put a notice in the Standard to that effect.

Messrs. S. H. Crowther, Walter Mercer and George Risdon, representing the Lions Club attended the meeting in order to inform the Council of plans for the proposed swimming pool for Strathmore.

Mr. Mercer, acting as spokesman, presented blue prints of the project, dimensions of pool to be 20 by 60 feet. Two different sites had been proposed but it was thought the one situated south of Mr. George Quinn's residence would be most suitable. The land would be tested for Alkali and quicksand and might remain the property of the town. The Council were quite interested in the matter and informed the delegates that when a decision was arrived at the Secretary would reply prior to their next meeting. November 23rd.

Bruce Potter— I want a box of powder for my sister, please.

Mr. Thurston (Jokingly)— Something that goes off with a bang?

Bruce— No something that goes on with a puff.

Support the 7th Victory Loan The Last Lap is the Hardest to make

With Four Days to go the Committee Asks Your Generous Support To Put The Quota Over

The Strathmore Unit is now approaching the end of another Victory Drive. The 7th Victory Loan, with an objective in this District of $300,000, is the largest yet asked for, being over one hundred thousand dollars in excess of the 6th. Loan objective.

It is a challenge to every citizen in this unit, but the Committee in charge have every confidence that the Strathmore District will not only subscribe the amount asked for, but have a margin to spare, notwithstanding the fact that there have been several severe hail storms throughout this area during the past season. Canvasers everywhere have been well received and a feeling of pride in the showing made by this District in the past still prevails.

We urge everyone to support this Loan to the limit of their ability and in so doing assist our brave lads overseas who look to us to do our part.

At time of going to Press about 80% of the Loan has been subscribed. If you have not yet been called upon by one of the Canvasers, see your local banker.

Buy More Bonds and Keep the Bonds you Buy.

On behalf of the Committee,
E. N. Ridley, Chairman.

WEDDING

CHRISTENSEN - LARSEN

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized in the Nazareth Lutheran Church at Standard, on the evening of Friday, November 3rd., when Gerda, Leona, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Axel A. Larsen, became the bride of Mr. Alex. Louis Christensen, R. C. N. V. R., younger son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Christensen. Rev. M. Jorgensen officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her gown of bridal satin, which was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and torso fitting waistline. Dainty lace ruffles over the shoulder was the only touch of trimming. She wore a becoming headpiece of orange blossoms and long veil of misty net. Her bouquet was American Beauty roses and for good luck she carried a Brussels Lace Handkerchief, and wore a gold link bracelet which had been worn by her Great-Grandmother, and a Diamond Pendant, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Borge Larsen, herself a bride of ten days, was the Matron of Honor and wore her bridal dress of ivory satin with insets of fine net at the V neckline, and tiny buttons from neck to the waist at the back. She wore deep rose carnations in her fair hair, and carried the same lovely flowers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Larsen chose a becoming two-piece ensemble with a corsage of deep pink roses, while the groom's mother was attractive in a Royal Blue frock with gold sequin trimming. Her flowers were a corsage of yellow roscubus.

Mr. Borge Larsen, attended the groom and Mr. Vernon Larsen and Mr. Gordon Rasmussen were the ushers.

During the ceremony Mr. Stanley Rasmussen sang, "Oh, Promise Me". Following the church ceremony a reception for seventy guests was held in the K. P. Hall, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion with pale pink and yellow spray mums.

Tall ivory tapers in silver candleabra and a three tier wedding cake, topped by the ornament used on her Grandparents Golden Wedding cake, and dainty place cards, made a dainty setting for the bride's table, at which many honored guests were seated.

During the evening toast to the King, the Bride, and the Navy, of which the groom is a member, were honored, and many friends offered their good wishes to the happy couple.

INDIGNATION MEETING

RE WHEATLAND BUS SERVICE

A Meeting was held Tuesday evening, November 7th, in the Jr. room of the Nightingale School, when representatives of Valley Garden and Ardenode district were present.

The main topic of discussion was the very unsatisfactory Bus Service provided by the Wheatland Board.

Mrs. George Thurston was Chairman. Mr. Otto Wheeler, Trustee for the district, was present and heard various complaints which were brought up.

That the indignation of the residents is running high, was fully evident as the Bus service has not been at all adequate. The children have lost nine days of school out of twenty five.

A resolution was framed and will be presented at the next meeting of the Wheatland School Board.

Delegates appointed were Messrs Lee Kinsey, J. Petersen, Geo. Thurston sr. and Phil Sarsons.

CARSELAND

BURREL COTE WOUNDED FOR SECOND TIME

Mr. Walter Cote of Carceland received word from his son, Tpr. Burrell Cote (Dude) of the Calgary Tank Regiment, that he is in a British Base Hospital, recovering from his second wound in the Italian Campaign.

Tpr. Cote was in a building when German artillery hit the building. It was believed flying rock or brick hit him on the side of the head.

He was first wounded in July.

Numerous telegrams of Congratulations were read, conveying good wishes from near and far.

Mr. Thervald Larsen, of Calgary, delighted the guests with several piano selections and Mr. Vernon Larsen sang, "Because", especially for his sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Christensen left later that evening for Calgary, and from there journeyed East to Montreal, where Mrs. Christensen, who is a graduate of the Misericordia Hospital, Edmonton, will take a post-graduate course at the Children's Memorial Hospital, Montreal, while the groom resumes his duties as Leading Telegrapher with the RCNVR in Halifax.

WE HOPE YOU WERE RIGHT NOSTRADAMUS

400 years ago, Michel de Nostre Dame, famous French mystic, averred that 1944 would see the finish of the war.

Michel de Nostre Dame was perhaps one of the greatest seers who ever lived. He predicted the Great Fire of London, the French Revolution, the rise and fall of Napoleon and other events . . . even up to the year 7000. Only a few of his predictions do not come to pass.

Every Canadian hopes this particular prediction comes true. But we cannot rely on the visions and prophecies of seers and mystics, who are often wrong, to bring an early victory. It still requires dollars to buy guns, planes, ships and munitions to fight and win battles. That's why all of us must invest in Victory.

Buffalo, N. Y.

It ain't the heat nor the blistered feet,
Nor the meals of Spam in place of meat.

Nor the butter like lard, nor our turn at guard.

None of these is one-half as hard
As the jolt we get, after all the sweat
And a cheery voice says, "No mail yet."

And it ain't the breeze, like a dragon's sneeze,

That peels the hide and weakens the knees,

Nor the dirt in your gun, nor the broiling sun—

These are forgotten when day is done,
But our voices fail and our faces pale if we draw a blank when it's time for mail.

We can stand the flies and the sand in our eyes,

The orders, the rumors, the truth and the lies,

The mosquitoes' swarm and the water warm,

And the wards that reek of chloroform
What takes our fight and makes throats tight

Are the letters somebody didn't write.

The Nightingale Women's Institute held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Farr last Friday. Roll Call was, "Your Pet Irritation," and many varieties were exposed. Detail plans for the bazaar were finished. Mrs. Klummett had some novelty and animal patterns to be used to make articles for the bazaar. Mrs. Walter Mercer reported another $6.00 turned in by the W. I. for Milk for Britain Fund. Knitting and handwork went on during a pleasant social hour, after which Mrs. Farr served a delicious lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hilton were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Harvey recently.

Mr. Ted Thurston of Turner Valley visited at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. George Thurston over the week-end.

Mrs. P. H. Hildahl and Beverly are spending several weeks in Calgary after which they will visit with the Hildahl family at Strathmore.

Tickets on the lovely prize quilt are for sale at the store and don't Believe me, folks, inflation's not a thing for just a passing thought. The juggling of the nation's bills to save us from inflation's ills is something to be thankful for and sure has helped to win the war. The thing is though—it's not too late to rock the good old ship of state. Inflation STILL could take a hold—it will if buying's uncontrolled, and really all that we can buy and know they're not in short supply are bonds, and it's just common-sense to buy them in our own defence.

It can't be called a sacrifice—that bonds pay well there's none denies.

They draw a very nice per cent on money waiting to be spent when "Victory and Peace both won, some carefree spending can be done.

We wonder of there is any truth in the thought that the large number of hunting licenses has anything to do with the milk shortage.

A jeep drive into Germany, including parts of the Seigfried Line near Aachen, the opening of the Belgian parliament, and the British battle in Holland, are some of the events described in recent broadcasts by Matthew Halton, CBC War Correspondent now making his headquarters in Brussels. Halton is heard regularly on the CBC News Roundup, Mondays to Fridays, at 6.45 p.m., on the Trans-Canada Network.

The worst inflation came AFTER the war the last time . . . to be followed by disastrous deflation, unemployment and confusion. For Canada to manage successfully the change back to peace, maintain employment, and meet the world's competition . . . we must continue to have stable economic conditions. To protect the individual from rising costs of living and later unemployment we must continue to prevent inflation.

TODAY'S QUOTATION

We may not be master of our daily work, but we are at least master of the spirit in which we do it.
 —HUGH BLACK.

DR. WILLIAM TEMPLE

IT IS A great loss to the world that a man of such outstanding, worthy and forward-looking ideals as the late Archbishop of Canterbury possessed, should be cut off by death so comparatively early in life.

The Archbishop was a fearless man and the Church at large and the world generally would have been greatly blessed and benefitted by the general application of his principles.

Now in his untimely death, it is ardently to be hoped that the seed of his ideals will have found roots so deep in one or more of his compatriots that his influence will not cease with his death.

With Aben ben Adiem we say "May his tribe increase".

"Who Will Bell the Cat?"

STRATHMORE SHOULD HAVE a modern system of water works installed in our houses.

We hear this on all sides from rate-payers, and non-rate-payers. As at present the latter have no vote in a money by-law, but we have heard different renters state quite definitely they would be more than willing to pay the added cost in rent for the sake of the convenience.

One owner said very recently, "Of course we should have it. I would be willing to pay $5 a month to have it, home owners who have a sort of water system would freely pay the difference in cost, to be free of the worry of an only partially satisfactory system."

Who then will take the lead and set the ball rolling towards this forward movement for our Town?

We repeat what we have previously said in these columns that experienced and practical men have stated unequivocally that Strathmore would benefit financially by the attraction it would offer to home seekers to choose this as their home centre.

Let us not dally at the door of opportunity, but awake to the benefit this progressive project would bring

Two Sides to Victory

IF people at home could see the stuff of which victories like that in the Philippine Sea are made, there would be no reason to warn against over-optimism. But the home front cannot see, nor yet imagine. Every war correspondent who comes back home brings this realization with him — only seeing is believing in modern war.

Admiral Nimitz's report on the second battle of the Philippine Sea confirms the impression created by earlier but vaguer dispatches. The battle must be written down alongside the great naval contests of all time.

The boys on Leyte, however, will not take time off to celebrate the naval victory in some expensive night club. They will not take it easy tomorrow on the grim assembly line that reaches into the jungle. They will not decide that a strike can do little harm now that the Japanese fleet has been sent limping home.

The sniper's bullet whistles as men acutely overhead, the machine gun has as nasty a bite as when the Japanese Navy was beating down on Leyte. The point of the battle for the men who have to build victory all along the road to Tokyo is, "We're still here, thanks to the Navy, and we'll show our gratitude to a soldier can."

"So the home front likes the news?" Okay, okay. Hope they don't like it too much, though. We'd like to join the home front ourselves before too long." — Christian Science Monitor.

Conditions in Ottawa

CANADIANS from Coast to Coast are deeply concerned over the serious condition of affairs in Ottawa.

And what of the men at the front who are wading through mud and water and weary, while several thousand men physically fit are so far, making little use of the training they have received.

Gen. MacNaughton has a heavy task ahead to work matters out to the satisfaction of all.

Further trouble, when the war is supposedly over, would be serious on several scores and must be avoided.

WEDDING

CHRISTENSEN - LARSEN

The Standard Lutheran Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding when on November 3rd, Miss Leona Larsen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Larsen became the bride of Mr. Axel Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Christensen, Standard.

The bride wore a beautiful floor-length gown of white satin, a veil and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. B. Larsen, matron-of-honor, also wore a floor-length gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of red carnations. Mr. B. Larsen, brother of the bride was the best man. Rev. Jorgenson performed the ceremony.

Mr. Stanley Rasmussen sang, "O Promise Me" during the signing of the register.

A reception was held in the K. P. Hall where some 70 guests were gathered. Rev. Jorgenson proposed a toast to the bride. Mr. L. Christensen proposed a toast to King and Country. Mr. Vernon Larsen beautifully rendered the solo "Because" Miss Una Myrthu accompanied him on the piano. A delicious lunch was

From a statement March 26, 1944

LET'S be quite frank.

When you read—as you probably did during the past few months—that more than 300,000 people in Canada have syphilis, what was your reaction? Did you say, "That's too bad; something should be done about it", and then turn to the comic page? Chances are you did.

But if that article had told you that Tommy Jones, the lad who used to mow your lawn after school, had syphilis—how would you have felt about it? Or that the young couple who built that cute house in the next block, had just lost a baby through syphilis... would that have made you stop and think?

Or, if you suddenly discovered that your Mar... No? That couldn't happen? But it can. And it does... to hundreds of Tommies and Marys every year, right here in Canada. Right in your community. You'll never read articles like that, of course, for these are the personal tragedies that people bear in silence.

So, when you pick up the paper sometime and read, "... there were 5,000 new VENEREAL DISEASE cases reported in this province last year...", remember! These are not cold figures. They represent 5,000 heart-breaking... heart-aching situations.

Yes, VENEREAL DISEASE is a serious problem. It's a problem for parents; for taxpayers, for young people on the threshold of life; for everyone.

VENEREAL DISEASE need never strike if we all do our part. If we know the facts. If we use these facts to advantage. If we don't shrug our shoulders and say, "This couldn't happen to anyone in my family."

You have a duty to your family and the community.

WEDDING

MILLER - VANDERVELDE
The North Hill United Church was the scene of a wedding on Friday, October 27th, when Daphne Lavonia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Van DerVelde of Dalemead, became the bride of Wessan George Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Miller of Dalemead. Rev. Chas. E. Rees officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white sheer and a three-quarter length veil. Her bouquet was white calla lilies and red rose buds, and her only ornament was a necklace, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Ethel Miller, sister of the groom was bridesmaid and she was dressed in light blue sheer and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Mrs. H. Newton was matron of honor and she was dressed in dusky rose sheer and carried a bouquet of yellow edged with pink carnations. Mr. Morley Miller, brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. Russell Coonfer and Mr. Roy Hahle were Ushers.

A reception for relatives and friends was held at the bride's home where the bride's mother received, assisted by Mrs. Miller. Mr. J. Paterson proposed the toast to the bride. Both the bride and groom responded. A short sketch of the bride's life was given by her Uncle, Mr. C. Colwell. The bride presented a bouquet of flowers to the groom's mother, this day being her birthday. Happy birthday was sung by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller left later for their honeymoon at Banff, Vancouver and Victoria, and for going away the bride wore a light blue suit, brown hat and accessories.

After returning from the coast the young couple will live on a farm in the Dalemead District.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. Orvis of Mirror Alberta; Mrs. Warren Miller and daughter, of Markerville, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. Jensen, Okotoks, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. Mundell, Okotoks, Alberta; Mrs. A. Hawkins, Calgary; Miss Ruth Hawkins of Calgary and Mr. and Mrs. E. McKinnon of Altrich Alberta.

From Around And About

— By D. A. F. —

THIS WEEK'S EDITION OF "Around and About" would not be complete without mention of the tremendous loss that has been sustained by Christendom in the death on October 26th., of Dr. William Temple, Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of All England. To many of us, his sudden passing came as a shock from which we are still recovering, and in the eyes of Christians everywhere his death is seen as an almost irreparable blow to the future of Christianity.

William Temple was the only Archbishop of Canterbury whose father had held the same office. He was widely acknowledged as an ecclesiastical statesman, an outstanding theologian and philosopher and one whose leadership was more generally recognized, perhaps, than that of any Christian leader since Reformation times. His career from its beginning at Rugby and through Balliol College, Oxford, was studded with brilliant achievements. In rapid succession he became headmaster of Repton School, Rector of St. James, Piccadilly, Canon of Westminster, and finally in 1921 was elevated to the office of Bishop of Manchester. He held this post until 1929 when he was appointed Archbishop of York, the youngest of all time. On April 23rd, 1942, he was enthroned as the 98th Archbishop of Canterbury, succeeding Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang.

Dr. Temple was the author of many books of which the most widely read is "Christianity and the Social Order". In this book his social views were bravely and clearly enunciated. He was in deadly earnest in his ideas of social reform and many feared him as a social revolutionary.

On the other hand, there was a strong human sympathy and a keen sense of humour in his makeup. To many, he was known as "Billy Temple" and clerics of the more austere variety were known to have looked askance at his boyishness and audibly wondered "what Billy Temple is up to now".

One typical story is told of him—He was introduced to a man named Cholmondeley Jones. "Take a seat, Mr. Jones," said the Archbishop. "My name is Cholmondeley," replied the visitor.

"Indeed," said Dr. Temple. "Then take two seats."

Christian leaders all over the world join in the realization of a great loss but at the same time give thanks to God for the inspiring life, the unwavering faith and the unquestionable sincerity of William Temple, Archbishop of Canterbury.

Start Care Now of Winter House Plants

One of the secrets of success in keeping house plants in good condition during the winter is to start their care immediately the heat is turned on in the home in the fall. The reason is that one of the most common causes of failure during the winter is that the plants are kept in rooms that are much too warm for them. By the time Christmas has arrived, the plants may be wilted or otherwise in poor condition, particularly if they have been placed near a radiator. More house plants have been killed by heat than by cold. The ideal temperature for house plants is about 65 degrees, or better still, 60 to 65 de-degrees F., three degrees less than the recommended house temperature both from a health point of view and that of the war fuel-saving campaign. If one desires to have the plants in any of the living rooms, the best thing to do is to keep the rooms as cool as possible consistent with personal comfort.

The various plants have different tolerances to sunlight. Ferns should be placed where there is an abundance of light but not in direct sunlight, while on the other hand, flowering plants as a rule require all the sunlight they can get, especially in winter time. Foliage plants are more tolerant to insufficient light, but in winter time they may be placed in direct sunlight.

Care should be taken to prevent direct draughts on plants. At the same time, a dry atmosphere is to be avoided because it not only stunts the plants but helps the increase of certain insect pests such as red spider and thrips. Moisture in the air around plants may be increased by standing the pots in shallow trays filled with pebbles, gravel or moss and keeping it moist. Draining in the pots is an important factor. This may best be arranged by using soil in the pot that will allow both air and water to pass through easily. A mixture of two parts good garden loam soil, one part rotted manure, and one part sand will generally fulfill the soil requirements of potted plants. Further draining may be obtained by placing pebbles, small stones or like material at the bottom of the pot, so as to drain off any excess water.

A GOOD INDUSTRY FOR WESTERN CANADA

Between the Cascade Mountains and the sea, in Western Oregon and Washington, a tremendous piece of farming is underway, Stewart Holbrook writes in Collier's. On 3,000,000 acres of cutover forest land, loggers and lumbermen are growing trees on a gigantic scale and using methods and equipment so new that the general public has not yet heard of them.

No general harvest of these trees is planned or expected until around 2000 A. D., although some minor cuttings may be made 49 or even 50 years hence. It is long-term farming any way you look at it, and it is a good deal riskier than growing potatoes or wheat. But the loggers and lumbermen who are investing hundreds of thousands of dollars in tree farms are convinced that they have the answer to what is loosely called "America's timber conservation problem". Practical businessmen all, they contend that the only conservation worth considering is one which allows us to use our forests and have them, too. Timber cropping is designed not only to protect present stands of timber but to keep the Pacific Northwest producing its third of the nation's lumber supply for centuries to come.

Billy and Jean were married Friday night and Saturday morning they were taking breakfast in a Calgary cafe.

They had both ordered eggs. Walter (leaning over Jean's shoulder)—How do you like your egg madam?

The bride seemed a little flustered for a moment, then she answered, "Oh I think he's all right."

Flashlight batteries should not be left in flashlights after they have run down; that's when they begin to swell and leak and are likely to corrode the case and in many instances make it unfit for further use. It's a good idea to test your flashlight once a week, even though you haven't used it. If the light is dim, or if there is no light, empty the flashlight immediately and refill with new batteries.

NORTH WEST AIR COMMAND ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE

EDMONTON, ALTA. November 9.—Although the North West Staging Route is generally considered as primarily concerned with air traffic maintenance of its bases which extend from Edmonton to the Alaska border has involved the R. C. A. F.'s North West Air Command in one of the biggest, and certainly the toughest trucking operation in the service.

R. C. A. F. trucks are operating constantly over the Highway in expedient between Dawson Creek and Whitehorse, a distance of 917 miles by road. All but the highest priority freight reaches the air fields by truck in quantities which now total up to between 200 and 400 tons a month. Some of this freight, specially perishable food, is rushed over the Highway in express trucks, by a system of relieving drivers, cover the distance from Dawson Creek to Whitehorse in 36 hours, virtually a non-stop journey. Other less urgent freight goes in a more leisurely fashion; it takes 7 to 9 days for the round trip from Dawson Creek to Whitehorse and back again. If the needs are so urgent that even the 36-hour fast schedule is not good enough, then the freight travels by air in one of the big DC-3's of the North West Air Command heavy transport Squadron.

In charge of all North West Air Command's transportation problems is a man who for 25 years before joining the R. C. A. F. was in the transportation business S/L R. M. "Toob" Maze, former traffic manager for Marshall Wells in Edmonton. Maze practically lives, breathes, and eats transportation. On top of his civilian experience he served with R. C. A. F. Port Transit Units at three East coast Canadian ports before returning to Western Canada to handle problems of air and surface transportation into Canada's far northwest.

Maze is careful to point out that men who drive the trucks were hand-picked in the first place. "Today" he adds, "With their experience behind them, they operate with the smooth efficiency of a first-class trucking concern."

They passed her in the park. "That's Smith's wife," said Carter. "Thanks the world of her husband!" "Does she?"

"Yes. Why she even thinks the parrot taught him to swear."
